The Ninilchik Village Tribe is made up of approximately 800 members who trace their roots to the Ninilchik tribal lands as well as other Bureau of Indian Affairs-recognized Alaska Natives and American Indians who have settled in the tribal boundaries and have applied, and been accepted, for membership. The governing body of the Ninilchik Village Tribe, the Ninilchik Traditional Council, is presided over by a board of directors of 5 council members elected by the voting tribal membership to 3 year terms. The council directs executive staff using the Ninilchik Village Tribe’s Organic Documents, which are set by the voting tribal membership to exercise tribal operations and tribal sovereignty, as guidelines.

As spring approaches, I hope that everyone had a positive and productive winter. At this time, we have not receive notice regarding the educational fishery status for 2014. In all honesty, things look fairly ominous, specifically with regard to king salmon. The recent board of fish meetings, coupled with unprecedented forecasts for low king salmon returns, have put a damper on my normally extremely positive outlook. As evidence of this, the early run king salmon fishing on the Kenai has already been shut down prior to the season. We will however persevere and continue to work towards meaningful subsistence for the community, although we need to be vigilant and realistic in our expectations. We are also submitting new proposals to the Federal Subsistence Board for more meaningful methods and means for harvest on the Kenai and Kasilof rivers in federal waters. On a similar note, the clam beaches here in Ninilchik have now been closed by the state via emergency order due to low populations. The tribe previously and ardently lobbied the state to reduce the limit over the years in recognition of the declining clams and was met with deaf ears. They responded that things were sustainable and everything was in essence fine, but we now know that our original concerns were valid and should have been addressed earlier. These are examples of disconcerting efforts we experience when dealing with sustainability issues and harvest for our local resources. On a positive note, we are redoubling our efforts to make trips to Polly Creek for clams this summer.

I previously reported that Tiffany Stonecipher was leaving as the Elders Outreach Coordinator. I am delighted to report that she is staying with us and is already back working with the Tribe. She held an initial elder’s luncheon on March 10th and we are back on schedule for regular meals scheduled for Mondays at 12:00 p.m. at the NTC Subsistence building. Please mark your calendars and check the schedule online or further on the Elders Program page to look for when meals aren’t provided due to closures.

The NTC Transit Facility construction project is nearing completion and the Environmental/Resource Department has moved into their new building on Oil Well Road. We are extremely excited to have another facility and I can’t thank Darrel and his crew enough for this enormously positive endeavor, which has made an invaluable addition to tribal infrastructure. Darrel has committed a massive amount of time and training in developing a successful force account construction model that was implemented for this structure. This made the project financially feasible and it represents major capacity building for future endeavors as well. We now own all of our buildings and offices outright, a long sought after goal that has now been achieved.

On the council news front, the board held their regular meetings on February 13th and March 14th, 2014 respectively. As is customary, they heard reports from the program directors and discussed ongoing activities. The council adopted resolutions which included updating signature cards and amended a housing policy in regards to increasing mod/rehab program limits for modular homes. They approved the fiscal year 2013 audit and agreed on a new policy for NTC properties, adding a 20 foot smoke-free perimeter around all NTC facilities. The board of directors has recently changed as well and I want to thank Gary Jackinsky for his work on the NTC once again. He recently resigned his position on the board in order to relocate and take an exciting new job in Southeast. I thank him for his service again and we wish him great success in his endeavors. Along these lines, Kenny Odman has been appointed by the board in order to take Gary’s spot and I congratulate him and welcome him back to the council.

As stated before, the fiscal year 2013 audit was adopted by the council this past month. This report is another clean audit and has no findings or questioned costs, representing another immaculate job by our team, especially by our Chief Financial Officer Maria Goins. This is our sixth consecutive clean audit with no findings and she continues to provide unbelievable and astute financial oversight. I cannot thank her enough.

The Ninilchik Chamber of Commerce is working towards updating the sign as you enter Ninilchik as well as their website and outreach activities to include additional business and organizational interest in the community. They have asked for any high resolution pictures that are not copyrighted or that you would be willing to share for inclusion on this site. These pictures would depict Ninilchik and the community. If you have anything that you are willing to share I would encourage you to contact us in order that we can forward this on to them.

Finally, I want to thank Christina Pinnow and the Tribal Services staff for another great year at the Early Learning Program (ELP). The graduation for the young folks is scheduled for April 24th, 2014 at 11:00 a.m. I want to congratulate our youth and send my best wishes in their further education. As is commonly and correctly said, the children are our future.

As always please feel free to stop in for some coffee, and I encourage you to attend the regular council meetings or get involved with ongoing events and activities here at the Tribe. The next scheduled regular council meeting is set for Friday, April 11th, 2014 at 10:00 a.m.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Ivan Z. Encelewski
NTC Executive Director
Hello Folks,

The days are getting longer and spring is in the air, so it’s now time to get those housing applications into my office for approval! All applications take time to process and wintertime and spring is the perfect time to get that part out of the way. We have to have time to verify for eligibility, and some programs require a detailed Environmental Review before we can begin any work. Please keep in mind that Environmental Reviews can take as long as three months to conduct, so turning in an application in July or August to have your home re-roofed most likely means that the job will not be done until the following summer. This also means that we would have to re-verify the household’s income eligibility in the next year. Applications can be found here at the NTC main office, or on the Housing’s web page at ninilchiktribe-nsn.gov/departments-and-services/housing/

There have been two changes made to the Home Rehabilitation Program regarding both the grant amounts and defining what type of trailer is qualified. We have now defined what assistance will be given to modular and manufactured homes that were built to the HUD Safety Standards manufactured from 1990 on will be qualified for the full $30,000 dollar grant as all other homes currently are. All other forms of trailers, mobile homes, or manufactured home or modular homes built before 1990 are not eligible for assistance.

The annual income limits on who is eligible for housing assistance have also gone up recently. Listed below are household size and income maximum income eligibility amounts:

- 1 Person: $42,650
- 2 People: $48,750
- 3 People: $54,850
- 4 People: $60,900
- 5 People: $65,800
- 6 People: $70,650
- 7 People: $75,550

We will be starting our construction season soon and are putting together a list of people interested in working if there should be any job openings with contractor firms in contact with NTC needing help. This could be anything from laborers, framers, roofers, electricians, sheet-rockers, painters, etc. If you would like to be placed on this list, please drop off a letter of interest that details what type of work you are interested in doing, if you have any experience or not, and ways that the contractor will be able to contact you directly. This is for both women and men age 18 and older.

Until next time, have a wonderful spring!

Bob
Early Learning Program

Classroom Activities
This month the students have been busy learning about the letters:

- S: For spin art, strawberries, and snakes.
- T: For tractors, teeth, and toothbrushes.
- U: For up, under, and umbrellas, and
- V: Vase of violets.

In April, students will complete the alphabet ending with W, X, Y and Z!

Graduation Time!
This year’s Early Learning Program Graduation ceremony will be Thursday, April 24th at 11:00 AM at the ELP classroom. Parents and families of the graduates are invited to attend. Come join us to mark a year of learning well done on one last day before summer!

Active Wear for Active Kids
Tribal Services continues to assist families and children throughout our service area. We distributed athletic wear to 54 families and 116 children. We also dispersed the athletic apparel to five schools in the service area and outfitted the Ninilchik NYO team members. South Peninsula Haven House also benefitted from our donation. They promote healthy families, safe children and peaceful communities.

Extended Days
We are now running our 5 week extended day program for students entering Kindergarten in the fall. This is a wonderful opportunity for students to reinforce their academic and classroom skills learned throughout the school year.

Child Care

It’s not too early to start thinking about child care for this summer. Child care subsidies help low-income families with children under age 13 pay for child care so that parents can work or participate in training or education activities.

Who Benefits from CCDF-Funded Child Care Programs?

Children:
From birth through age 12 in vulnerable families have access, through CCDF, to child care settings that meet their needs, from full-day early care to afterschool care for school-age children. All children in child care benefit from CCDF investments to help programs meet higher standards and improve the quality of teachers.

Parents:
In eligible low-income families receive help paying for child care at a provider of their choice. Parents also may receive consumer education on such topics as what to look for in a quality child care provider. All parents with children in child care benefit from CCDF quality investments and from the peace of mind that comes from knowing CCDF funds are being used to improve child care facilities throughout Alaska.

Child care providers receive reimbursement for serving low-income families and can draw on networks of training and technical assistance resources to help them provide high-quality child care services.

To get your application started contact Bettyann Steciw at 567-3313 or e-mail bettyann@ninilchiktribe-nsn.gov

Foster Care

May is National Foster Care Month and we NEED foster parents!

What is the role of a foster parent?

As a foster parent, you are responsible for the temporary care of a child who has been placed outside his or her own home. During a time of disruption and change, a child needs a safe, stable, and nurturing home. As a foster parent, you are responsible for the temporary care of a child who has been placed outside his or her own home. During a time of disruption and change, a child needs a safe, stable, and nurturing home. The role of the foster parent is to:

- Provide temporary care for children, giving them guidance, and a safe, stable, nurturing environment.
- Work with the caseworker and the child’s family so that the child can safely return home.
- Participate with the caseworker and the child’s parents in supporting a case plan.
- Adhere to the confidentiality of the child and his or her family.
- Understand the need for, and goals of, family contacts and help with visits.
- Establish and follow through with the family contact plan with parents and siblings.
- Help the child cope with the separation from his or her home.
- Encourage and supervise school attendance, and participate in teacher conferences.
- Provide positive reinforcement, redirection, realistic expectations, and consistent limits with the children.
- Work with the agency in arranging for the child’s medical and dental care.
- Work with the child on creating a Life Book (a combination of a story, diary, and scrapbook) that gives the child a meaningful history of their life experiences.

Conscious Discipline Parenting Course

NTC Tribal Services in cooperation with Maria Calhoun, LPC, Program Coordinator at Sprout Family Services presented the Conscious Discipline course, a program that empowers adults to consciously respond to daily conflict, transforming it into an opportunity to teach critical life skills to children. We had nine families that participated in the five week course.

By implementing the powers and skills together, we learn to stay in control of ourselves and in charge of children in a manner that models the same skills we seek to teach. This empowers children to successfully learn and internalize lifelong skills. The skill themes presented were:

- Composure
  Life/Communication Skills: Anger management, gratification delay.
  Value: Integrity

- Encouragement
  Life/Communication Skills: Pro-social skills (kindness, caring, helpfulness).
  Values: Interdependence, optimism, gratitude.

- Assertiveness
  Life/Communication Skills: Bullying prevention, healthy boundary creation.
  Value: Respect for self and others.

- Choices
  Life/Communication Skills: Impulse control, goal achievement.
  Value: Persistence.

- Empathy
  Values: Honoring diversity and honesty.

- Positive Intent
  Life/Communication Skills: Cooperation and problem solving.
  Values: Compassion, generosity.

- Consequences
  Life/Communication Skills: Learning from your mistakes.
  Value: Responsibility.

Thank you to Sprout Family Services for helping provide this great opportunity in our area!
Library Updates & Events

Is there something you’d like to see the tribal library have on the shelves or provide? Let us know and we can add it!

Niqnalchint Creative Writing
If you are a beginner interested in writing, whether it’s stories, poetry, or even writing for information, join a meeting of our creative writing group to learn about different skills and inspirations to get you started! The group is led by local educator and writer Jamie Leman and meets semi-monthly in the NTC Administration Conference Room. At each meeting the group learns about a writing topic and begins a related activity in a fun and cooperative class style setting.

Next Meeting: Friday, April 18th at 2:00 PM
At the next meeting on we will be sharing our ideas for children’s stories we created a main character for at the previous meeting, continuing to look at children’s literature, and we will cover a new poetry style for brainstorming.

Tahyiga Book Club
The Tahyiga Book Club meets monthly to discuss contemporary Alaskan and world literature, focusing on indigenous and cultural identity themes. If you are interested in new, engrossing novels with multicultural views please come and participate! The club meets on late month Fridays (except this May) at 3:30 PM at the NTC Administration Conference Room. The next meetings will be on April 25th & Thursday May 22nd. Joining the book club is free and open to the public, and signing up is easy to do. Just call or e-mail Argent for more information.

The next two people to join the book club will receive a free book a month for a year. That’s 12 books for you to keep and share.

"Dena’inaq Huch’ulyeshi” comes to the Kenai Peninsula

We are excited to announce that this summer starting on Friday, May 23rd the Pratt Museum in Homer will be hosting the groundbreaking Dena’inaq Huch’ulyeshi exhibit. This collection of Dena’ina antiques and artifacts was amassed for a special exhibit at the Anchorage Museum in late 2013 to celebrate the Cook Inlet’s little known, unique indigenous heritage that has possibly faced the most transformation of all of Alaska’s native cultures.

The exhibit features numerous objects on loan from several world-renowned museums and cultural institutions across the globe and it provides a once in a lifetime opportunity to gain a face to face view of the pre-contact, 19th century, and today’s contemporary people.

Along with the exhibit, a companion book of the same title was published to document the collections and provide insight into the history and culture of the Dena’ina people and how the culture lives on today despite the rapid urbanization of much of the traditional Dena’ina lands. This book is available for viewing in the Niqnalchint Library and can be purchased at the Pratt Museum or from the Anchorage Museum web store at www.anchoragemuseum.org

The Ninilchik Traditional Council is honored to be a major supporter of this exhibit and would like to thank the Pratt Museum for its work to host this extraordinary collection at home in one of our people’s communities.

"Key Ingredients: America by Food” and “Putting By: Food and Identity on the Kenai”

The Pratt Museum is also excited to be the initial Alaska stop for Key Ingredients: America by Food. This nationally traveling exhibit, produced by the Smithsonian Institution, explores the many facets of American food culture. Our recipes, menus, ceremonies, and etiquette are directly shaped by our country’s rich Native and immigrant experience, the history and innovations of food preparation technology, and the ever-changing availability of key ingredients.

Throughout the exhibit gallery there will be opportunities to share some of your own stories about food and culture in the Lower Kenai Peninsula region. Public participation will help to inform the subsequent exhibit, Putting By: Food and Identity on the Kenai, which will open on May 15. Focused around foods collected and preserved to last the winter, this exhibit will explore the particularly seasonal nature of our local cuisine and food traditions.

Ninilchik tribal members are encourage to participate and share their own stories of food and subsistence in the local focus of this enriching national discussion.

For more information about the Niqnalchint Library or other arts and culture activities please contact Tribal Librarian Argent Kvasnikoff at the NTC Administrative Office by phone at 567-3313, or by e-mail to argent@ninilchiktribe-nsn.gov
Ninilchik Health Fair
submitted by Jenn Day

The annual Ninilchik Health Fair was held at the Ninilchik School on Saturday March 22nd. The fair was put on by the Alaska Health Fair Inc. in conjunction with the Ninilchik Clinic. The crowds had the opportunity to learn about important health topics such as nutrition, arthritis, healthy weight, stress relief and much, much more.

This year we were excited to expand from the typical informative booths to additional interactive activities. This year brought tours of an ambulance, a drunk driving obstacle course, and cooking demonstrations sending wonderful aromas throughout the area beckoning visitors to try samples.

The Health Fair was a large success as the community came together to become more aware of important health and safety topics as well as share in a sense of community. A big thanks also goes out to the many local vendors who donated items or gift cards for our drawing giveaways. We look forward to putting on another great

About NTC Behavioral Health Services

We provide both integrated mental health and substance abuse treatment services. Our mission is to provide the highest quality of care while meeting the client’s self-determined goals for treatment. We provide these services in a supportive, compassionate, culturally competent, and strengths-focused treatment setting. Our services are open to everyone. We are a State of Alaska certified Alcohol Safety Action Program (ASAP) provider and offer ASAP assessments, outpatient treatment, and the State of Alaska Alcohol Drug Information School (ADIS). Please contact us for further information at 907-567-3370.

The NOISE Makers Youth Coalition

Upon receiving a grant from the Department of Juvenile Justice, we established The NOISE Makers Youth Coalition. In correspondence with the goals of the Ninilchik Outreach and Involvement Student Experience, The NOISE Makers, will working to implement programs which reflect the priorities and the mission of Ninilchik Traditional Council and the Behavioral Health Department. Students ages 12-18 who join The NOISE Makers will work to enhance Ninilchik’s natural beauty by planting trees, starting a recycling program, and cleaning up garbage once a month from May to September. Members will engage in a Ninilchik Heritage Project where they will lead elementary classes on tours of the village and instruct them on the history of our area. The NOISE Makers will also be peer mentors and lead discussions at the school once a week regarding substance abuse, positive self-image, suicide prevention, and wellness.

Native Youth Olympic Team

Our Junior Native Youth Olympic Team ended their season with their final tournament in Seward where many of our junior athletes placed in their events. Upon returning home athletes attended an end-of-the-season award ceremony and pool party, where each participant received an award recognizing their achievements in NYO. Our senior team is planning on attending the state championship competition in Anchorage at the end of April. Gooooo NYO!

Additionally, Behavioral Health used teambuilding activities as learning experiences for social skills including increasing kindness toward others and reducing bullying. The youth created group pictures of what they want their community to look like and what it means to help others. The coach also has talking circles during which the youth discuss their day and what they’re grateful for.
Community Garden

We have begun accepting applications for the NTC Community Garden located behind Tovarish Manor on Aspen Avenue by the Senior Center. Members of NTC are strongly encouraged to apply for a plot at the garden where they may grow and harvest fruit and vegetables of their choice. Plots are 6’x6’ and NTC will prepare the soil. Gardeners will be responsible for purchasing, planting, tending, and harvesting their own crops. Applications are available at the NTC Community Outreach building.

Outreach

During the Ninilchik School home basketball tournament in February we were asked to host the homecoming dance at the Teen Center. It was an excellent opportunity to work with the school and strengthen our relationship. Originally, all of the visiting basketball teams were invited, but they had to begin traveling home as soon as the tournament ended so we had a substantially smaller turn out than we originally anticipated, but the Ninilchik students who attended reported having a good time.

We had 12 students show up at the Teen Center for our airsoft event on March 15th. The event was coordinated by students who were interested in bringing airsoft to Ninilchik. The Kenai Peninsula Fair generously offered their vacant grounds as the course and participants played for 6 hours practicing leadership, teamwork, strategy, and weapons safety. By working with Ninilchik School and Brave New Alaskan Voices, a slam poetry group out of Anchorage, we have organized a poetry writing and performance workshop for the entire Junior High and High School on March 21st. In the evening a performance was held and everybody had a wonderful time sharing their words.

On May 9th and 10th the Ninilchik Teen Center will be hosting a young women’s overnight retreat. Friday will include a movie night, mini spa, camp fire cast off, and creating a visualization board. Saturday will begin with Yoga and Zumba, followed by workshops on nutrition, self-image, healthy relationships, and completing their visualization board. Our retreat will conclude with a barbecue. We have spaces for 15 girls and are eager to start signing people up.

In correlation with Prom on Saturday, May 17 we are hosting an after prom lock-in at the school. This event is being planned with the purpose of providing students with healthy, fun, and substance-free activities. Students who attend the lock-in must present their prom ticket stub as admission. The lock-in is scheduled to run from 11pm-8am May 17th-May 18th.

One of the primary focuses of the Youth Alcohol Prevention program is outreach. We host weekly events for Ninilchik youth with the goal of providing substance free, pro-social activities that encourage self-esteem, leadership, respect, ownership, and community connectedness.

A challenge hindering the amount of outreach we can provide is a lack of volunteer chaperones. If you are at all interested in supporting our outreach by chaperoning please contact Maureen Todd at 907-567-3370.

Summer Events

Summer is coming around the corner and it is time to start planning all of our great activities whether it is fishing, harvesting, or just having fun gatherings with family and friends.

If you would like to be a part of future cultural and harvest opportunities or have ideas for ways to continue to spread the bounty or social events, please don’t hesitate to call. Previous and future events include trips to Polly Creek for razor clams, educational fishery for salmon, local tour to the SeaLife Center in Seward, hooligan fishing in Kenai River and local moose butchery.

Also if you are interested in volunteering to assist with summer events and services for elders please give me a call!

Keep an eye on our schedule for upcoming spring and summer program activities by visiting the Elders Outreach Program office, attending the next Elders Luncheon, or by viewing the Elders Outreach page online at the NTC website www.ninilchiktribe-nsn.gov

Happy Spring!

Working out Outside

Outside of Alaska, that is! For some lucky Ninilchikens, winters are spent in warmer climates down in the lower 48. It’s so great to get updates from some who are still exercising, and even doing marathons! Thank you to Peggy and Phyllis for sharing their photos. If you’d like to feature a photo in our newsletter, email Brie!

We’ll start another Half Marathon Training with Tammy Z this summer. Last year we had a group run and walk the Kenai River Half Marathon in September. We can’t wait to do it again. Tammy will help us all get ready to walk, run, or crawl the 13.1 miles (or 26.2 for the full marathon, if you’re feeling ambitious). Keep an eye out for advertisements in the upcoming months.

Susan Chihuly, Two-Time V.V. Winner!

Our 5th Annual Vinter Vigglov Wellness Challenge has come to an end. We are happy to announce our winner, for the second year in a row, Susan Chihuly!

Susan really earned it, working out for hours at the Club daily! She won an iPod shuffle and a one-year Club membership. She will also have her name engraved and posted on our Vinter Vigglov plaque that is displayed at the Club.

Second place went to Elise Spofford and third to Shirley Chihuly, who also won iPod shuffles and Club membership.

We would also like to recognize Kaye Waldsmith, who was just a few points shy of third place. Great job!

We are already looking forward to next January to do it all over again!
